Meadow Creek Notes

The snow storm came as an unwelcome visitor on March 18, as every one is getting anxious to see spring set along.

The Bible Class will meet at the school-house next Sunday. Every one is invited to come. See Mr. Bell.

Mrs. Wilson is spending the winter here, with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Quail.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. C. Brown and little son of Pearce, Alta., spent the week end visiting relatives here.

Mr. Aubrey Hopkins is back from Seattle, and will spend the summer with his uncle, Mr. Frank McCowan.

Mrs. Gustmann, who has been very ill, is reported to be improving. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Maxwell, and Mr. Bert Gillard, of Meadow Creek, attended the dance at Northern Light school last Friday night.

Mrs. Muldoon, of McLeod, who has charge of the Northern Light school, has five satisfactions. We congratulate our trustees in securing such an excellent teacher.

Messrs. J. A. Stevenson, and A. N. Brown and family, attended the Farmers' meeting at Chinoos school house last Monday, and report an excellent time. Among the speakers were Dr. Daniel McMillan, of Grinnell, J. A. Holding, of Carmichael, J. Stevenson, of Clareholm, and many others too numerous to mention.

The dance, given by Messrs. Bowie and McCowan, at the Northern Light school house, March 17th, was a success. The music was furnished by J. A. Holding. There were quite a large number in attendance, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves exceedingly. The time was occupied by dancing until 12, when a beautiful repast was served. A. N. Brown was then chosen to draw the lucky number, which proved to be No. 106. This ticket was held by Mr. Alie Korpnick and was a $10 cash prize. The guests were then favored with a few local selections by Messrs. McGowan, Holding, Bowie, Thompson, Stevenson and Miller. Dancing was then resumed until morning. And as the strains of the "Home Sweet Home" wafted, swept on the morning air, people began to make their departure for home, one and all vowing that they had spent a most enjoyable night. We hope that these friends who came from a distance enjoyed themselves, and in behalf of the "Northern Lighters" extend to them a hearty welcome and hope that they will come again.

Young People's Society

The subject at the Young People's meeting in the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening was "A Temperance." The speaker was a "H. A. M." The leader of the meeting Mr. Harry Knight, gave a really excellent paper, showing most careful thought and research in bringing out so many facts and illustrating how the many "Alites" helped the nation. A number took part in the discussion several others reading passages of Scripture.
Rev. McMichael gave a good report of the "Social and Moral Reform Convention recently held in Edmonton, and to which he was a delegate. A pleasing feature of the "Young People's" meeting, is the splendid arrangement without the aid of any instrument. The hour of meeting is eight o'clock Tuesday evening every one is cordially invited. A connection with the Adult Bible Class, owing to most of the officers having left town, the newly appointed officers are: President S. O. Bryant, Vice-president, Mrs. Knight, Treasurer, C. McLeod, Sec. E. A. Holding. At present we have 26 members. Very little we have no continuing abiding place, as since the Class was organized last fall, 14 members have left the town. All are cordially invited to the Class which meets every Sunday immediately after the morning service.

CLARESHOLM CONSERVATIVE POLITICAL RALLY

First Gun Fired By Leader Michener. The Candidate for Riding and Others Speak.

A meeting in the interest of the candidature of Dr. McMillan, who was chosen as the standard bearer at the recent Liberal Conservative convention for Clareholm riding, was held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Tuesday evening of this week. The drop in the temperature was responsible for the small audience, but in spite of the weather quite a number of the faithful attended the meeting. Several ladies were in the audience, no doubt getting posted on political matters in readiness for the time when the privilege of the ballot will be extended to them.

A. F. Bouffice, the president of the Association, occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. Dr. McMillan received a warm welcome when he came to speak. His address was brief, as he will have many opportunities at later dates to address Clareholm audiences. He thanked the people for the honor they had conferred upon him and promised, if elected, to serve the interests of the riding and the province as a whole, irrespective of politics or party.

Mr. Stewart, M.P.R. of Lethbridge, who had previously passed some severe criticisms on the Liberal administration at Edmonton, claiming that they had resorted to unfair tactics to retain office. He said that the liberals had allowed a man residing in the U.S. to represent a constituency at Edmonton. Discussing the Government railway policy, the speaker said it was a monopoly in railway construction. He alluded to the C.N.R., pledging the credit of the province to an enormous extent, and yet this immense sum pledged, no one can say with authority of one dollar to be spent in Southern Alberta.

The Conservative leader, Mr. E. Michener, Red Deer, was accorded an enthusiastic reception, upon arriving. He charged the present government with mismanagement, and the great question for discussion in the next provincial election campaign will concern the matter of the province's right to its natural resources and the proper course to be pursued to develop and to conserve. He claimed that for the past seven years the Conservative party had neglected the natural resources of the country in the interests of the people and not for the benefit of the great corporations.

Mr. Headley received warm applause for his address, and the meeting was brought to a close at 11 p.m. by the singing of the National Anthem.

ing it up at the rate of five million per year and that the debt of the province was now nearly fifteen millions. He claimed that the creation of a Sink Fund was being delayed by the Liberal government. In closing, the leader of the opposition urged the people to rise above partyism and if they were satisfied with the manner the autocratic premier was administering the affairs of the province, support the Liberal candidate, but if they wished a business administration managed by business men who will administer the affairs of this province in a businesslike manner they should send Dr. McMillan to Edmonton.

Geo. Headley, M.P.P., Okotoks who has a style which is distinctly his own, addressed the meeting in a speech of over an hour's duration. The speaker first took up the Rural Municipality Act and noted that the provincial government had given larger powers to the people in the rural portions of the province to carry out local improvement work, but he said that the "sinner is the fence," was the fact that the people would be enabled to produce these improvements by taxation only. The Rural Municipality would be called upon not only to keep up these roads but also to build and keep in repair steel bridges, etc. The farmers would be permitted to spend their money in building up the roads, but they would not have the say as to whom should travel over them, all such powers being vested in the minister of municipalities. In discussing the estimates brought down to the house this last session, the speaker stated that out of an expenditure of $108,000, a little over $200,000 would be spent on the rural portions and that in the light of the fact that over three-fifths of the population lived in the rural portions they were getting only four hundred instead of their fair share, three-fifths. Mr. Headley said that a strong wave of feeling was sweeping through Great Britain today as a result of the coal strike and if the people of Alberta were alive to this issue, they would send to Edmonton after the next general election a party that was pledged to advance the natural resources of the country in the interests of the people and not for the benefit of the great corporations.

Mr. Headley received warm applause for his address, and the meeting was brought to a close at 11 p.m. by the singing of the National Anthem.

A Merry Masquerade Was Well Known Here

The Masquerade Ball, which was held at Meadow Creek on the evening of March 18th, was a great success. The ball was given by Messrs. Bowie and McCowan. The music was furnished by J. A. Holding. There were quite a large number in attendance, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves exceedingly. The time was occupied by dancing until 12, when a beautiful repast was served. A. N. Brown was then chosen to draw the lucky number, which proved to be No. 106. This ticket was held by Mr. Alie Korpnick and was a $10 cash prize. The guests were then favored with a few local selections by Messrs. McGowan, Holding, Bowie, Thompson, Stevenson and Miller. Dancing was then resumed until morning. We hope that these friends who came from a distance enjoyed themselves, and in behalf of the "Northern Lighters" extend to them a hearty welcome and hope that they will come again.

Pendleton, Ont., March 18. Conrad Platenauer, a resident of Pendleton for a quarter of a century, died as a result of stopping at a rusty nail last Wednesday. A leg was amputated Saturday, but failed to save his life, and he died at an early hour last morning. He is survived by a wife, one son and a daughter. For several years he was engaged in the retail meat business here.

The Toronto Glee Club with its four popular vocalists, H. Rutledge MacDonald as Conductor has been engaged to give one night in Clareholm on Tuesday, March 20. This is no doubt the musical event of the season. Remember the date March 20. Popular prices will prevail.

Interurban Railway the Next on the Program

A meeting of the Board of Trade and principal citizens of the town was held Tuesday afternoon in Mr. Annand's office. The object of the meeting was to explain the interurban railway system.

The power used by the company will be electricity but petroleum. The cost of construction for steam is about forty-five thousand dollars per mile and for inter-urban from thirteen to eighteen thousand dollars per mile. The cost of operating steam is forty-five cents per mile, electricity twenty to twenty-five per mile and petroleum seven to thirteen cents per mile according to the grade.

The idea is with lesser cost of construction the company will be able to give much cheaper rates, twenty-five per cent less than steam for passenger traffic and freight. What the company asks is that local improvement districts shall give right of way twenty-six feet wide on one side of the highway, by petition to the board of improvement at Edmonton, under rules laid down by the government as to time on construction, etc.

On motion of Mayor Holmes, seconded by C. S. Milnes, Messrs. E. P. Newhall and T. A. P. Frost, of Calgary, representatives of the company were invited to address a mass meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall on Monday afternoon next at 2 p.m.

C. S. Drummond, managing director at Calgary, is a nephew of the late Sir George Drummond of the Bank of Montreal. Mr. Drummond has been connected with some of the largest engineering works in London, England, and in the colonies as well as in the United States, so is one of the best authorities on inter-urban construction.

There are already twenty engineers in the field laying out the route from Calgary to Carleton. The charter provides for twelve hundred miles in all in Southern Alberta. In this section, Calgary to Macleod, Lethbridge, Taber, Medicine Hat and the International boundary at Milk River.

Methodist Church Notes

The text and theme of Rev. H. T. Thorne's last Sabbath evening in the Methodist Church was, "What will it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" How unrespectably small and contemptible will it be to the foolish builders to see the work of a whole lifetime, of every toil and care, vanish in the testing fire of the day of God.

The late Mr. Thomas, faithful agricultural worker, had a painful accident, all wasted and lost. Hopeless, homeless, hopeless for evermore. But how glorious, builders, will be the day that shall declare the work of a lifetime approved by God and reveal the perfected temple of Claret, built by the fire "Found unto Praise and Honor and Glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ."

The Rev. T. C. Buchanan of Calgary, Superintendent of Missions for Alberta, will speak both in the morning and evening services next Sabbath.

Crossed the Divide

There died at Clareholm on Sunday, March 17th, Edward Thomas, who, while not more than 40 years of age, had a long and useful life. He was a native of England, having been born at Plymouth, on April 13, 1851. He was with his parents emigrated to Canada at the age of six, where their home was set up near the village of Mount Brydges in the Township of Canaan, West Middlesex.

The late Mr. Thomas farmed all of his active life, with the exception of three years engaged in the lumber business at Mt. Brydges, Ont. His home in Clareholm was the scene of securing relief from asthma, from which he had long suffered. In religion he was a member of the Methodist Church, but owing to ill health was deterred from active work. A wife and two sons survive him.

Would Benefit the Farmer

Inter-urban railways have greatly increased the amount of travel in sections where they exist, the number of passengers carried being many times greater than were formerly carried by the steam lines; and a part of this increased traffic represents the farmers and their families. To the agricultural traveler the steam lines offer no special convenience. The farmer must go to the town to take the train, but if he inter-urban line of one of these inter-urban railways, then he may be stopped at his door, transport him to the city while the town and the farmer go on. The product of his fertile soil is transported to market and a market that heretofore he has never known is brought to his very door. This patronage to the inter-urban railways has been so universal that the development of this enterprise has been most wonderful.

To correct the bad habits of others is to form a bad habit yourself. A bad disposition is natural to few; it comes from tired nerves, or from superabundance, or from a too free indulgence in sharp criticism—which is likely to lead a person into a more and more harassing scrutiny of the life about him. So long as criticism does not react unfavorably either on the critic or on the criticized it is beneficial; but when it is accompanied by a sense of impatience in the critic and of resentment in the other, it is no longer a virtue, but a fault—even if the fault that it justly objects to continue to flourish.

The naggers and the nagged are as a rule, extremely fond of each other. You are not likely to nag anyone that you do not care for. In other words, nagging is primarily a family custom, and is chiefly practiced between husband and wife, parents, brothers and sisters. A certain affectionate intimacy seems to be required for it. Few people who are so scrupulous, even if the corners are seldom dusted and the silver and brass polished only under protest. The mistress endures such a state of things as she no longer likes to make a change. Yet long suffering mistresses are sometimes nagged wives and mothers—for the nagging is done in their own homes, on a large or material piece they are always striving to reach the standard. The most dear to them. In the same way a man may nag his wife, though she often tolerates or discards his office boy.

For each of these there are certain persons whom it seems worth while to take pains with; but we should take pains with them at the right time and in the right tone of voice—in the way that the feeling of affection has sufficiently overcome that of annoyance. If we choose to nag, let us do so with the feeling that the victims of our nagging may soon cease to counsel our.

King George's Work-Room

The room in which King George transacts his business is conveniently situated in his private apartments. It is a rule only to receive official visitors in his private apartments, and personal friends as call upon him in his private smoking-room. The room is a very large and comfortable one, and is situated at the end of the whole of the private suite of the palace, and was carried out by the direction, and under the personal supervision of the late King Edward. It is not very large and is a thorough "man's room" in every sense of the word. It contains, among other things, a shooting trophy, mostly trophies of the late King's skill with rifle, gun and the rod. Occasionally the King goes to the room to do a bit of a busy morning at Lord Stamford, Col. Sir P. Pembury, or others of his secretarial staff, should succumb their duties for a short time to accompany him to the smoking room, there to have a chat over a brief smoke. The King does not smoke anything like the same extent as his late Majesty, of whom it is on record that he never was seen without a cigar in his mouth. It is very rarely that the King smokes when he is travelling on the coast, as in the case of the Medina voyage, he will light a cigarette or a cigar, which he will smoke in the privacy of his room. He could never be seen smoking in public. Archdeacon Fisher was not without his share of the "king's" work. He received a quiet hint from Constable on the subject. He had been called out to see him, which he was not aware that Constable had explained before he asked him how he liked it.

"Very much, indeed, Fisher," replied Constable, "but I like that sermon."

Victor Hemery, the noted French racing automobilist, was praising an American automobile, and said that why it should be so unpopular, he could not say. He said that he had never seen it. At any rate, it is a very much improved machine. It is a very much improved machine. It is a very much improved machine.

Asthma doesn't wear off alone. Do not make the mistake of waiting for asthma to wear away by itself. While you are waiting the disease is surely gathering a stronger foothold and you live in danger of stronger and yet stronger attacks. Dr. J. K. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy taken early, will prevent the most dangerous conditions from becoming chronic and saves hours of awful suffering.

Laborer, of London Truth, in his long career as editor and publisher, received hundreds of letters from men who had been cured of their asthma by the highest dangers ever obtained since Truth up to 1910 amounted to 4,000, and the paper has only lost six or eight actions.

Dysentery corrodes the intestines and causes a deadly disease. It is a very dangerous disease. It is a very dangerous disease. It is a very dangerous disease.

Where Was He?

"Waiter," he complained, "I smell fresh paint."

"If you'll just wait a minute, sir," said the cheery-looking footman, "these ladies will have to wait."

A Pill for All Seasons.—Winter and summer in any latitude, whether in the tropics or Arctic, Kellogg's Vegetable Pills can be depended upon to do their work.

The dyspeptic will find them a friend all day and should carry them with him everywhere. They are made to withstand any climate and are warranted to give a thoroughly healthy system. They do not grow stale, a quality not possessed in many pills now on the market.

Bakers in France are subjected to certain unusual noise and regulations. They must always have a certain stock of bread on hand, and must be ready to supply it at any time.

On Time

Some squander time, some invest it, some kill it. That precious hour of the day is a very scarce commodity. It is a very scarce commodity. It is a very scarce commodity.

Years had passed, the political equality of the sexes was fast becoming a fact, and a certain candidate for the presidency had but now been knocked out in a dignified manner.

Her humiliation was complete. But although she declined to talk for publication, her friends were less reticent.

"Hats of that shape," these protest with such feeling, "went out ages ago"—Puck.

The steward of a Chicago hotel has invented a machine that will wash and dry 1,000 dishes in a plain hour.

"I want," declared the advertising man, "I want a picture of a man who is a good fellow, a good fellow, a good fellow."

"Yes, I see," said the artist, "picking up a picture of a man who is a good fellow, a good fellow, a good fellow."

Something like this—

He watched a group of Olympian winged suns, and the advertising man looked it over approvingly.

"But what does it mean?" he commented.

"Oh, Mercury? He was the speediest thing that ever lived," the artist declared. "Mercury was the fastest of speed, you know."

A very interesting programme will be given at the Piro Mills School on Friday evening next under the auspices of the U. F. A. Mr. Farmer—do you want the best implements and machinery that money can buy at prices that are right? You can get them, also a square deal, at the Massey-Harris Agency.

An afternoon tea of special interest was given at the parsonage on Tuesday afternoon last to the members of the Woman's Missionary Society. A musical programme was furnished by Mrs. Peck, Miss Grey, Mrs. Steeves, Mrs. Ringrose and Mrs. Harrison. An interesting talk was also given by Miss Harrison on Dr. Grenfell's work in the north.

Most people die from a breakdown of some part of the system, very few from a ripe old age. This is not the case with the New No. 11 Massey-Harris Drills, as those who use them say they are very strongly built, doing their work uniformly well and standing very hard usage.

Most of the farmers are getting ready for the spring work.

Mr. Bob Coulter and family have left here, and gone out to their home-land, east of Lethbridge. We understand that Mr. Wm Quill will farm the place formerly occupied by Mr. Coulter.

Spokane is After the Silverware

(Special to, etc.)

Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, March. —The Canadians who for three years past have been capturing nearly all of the silver cups and valuable prizes at the Dry Farming Congresses at Billings, Spokane, and Colorado Springs, have got to look to their laurels this fall, for the Spokane Chamber of Commerce is going to endeavor to recapture all that silverware and some more besides, according to the entries and space reservations made for that organization at the International Dry-Farmed Products Exposition to be held at Lethbridge October 21-26.

Daniel Morgan, financier and banker of Spokane, is the organizer of this movement to give the Canadians "a big run for their money," and he is one of the most energetic men on the Board of Trustees of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce. As chairman of the agricultural, horticultural and dairy committee of that organization, Mr. Morgan is making things hum, according to all reports. He has stirred up the growers of world prize winning grain in Alberta and Saskatchewan by his announcement, and they are this early preparing to grow still better grains than heretofore, and some are now devoting their overalls sowing seed with microscopes by oil lamps.

In a statement issued this week, following a meeting of the trustees of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, at which a large appropriation was made to meet the expense of gathering an exhibit, Mr. Morgan said:

"We are going in strong for everything in sight at the big Dry Farming Congress Exposition at Lethbridge next October. We shall enter several exhibits in the sweepstakes class, for a bundle of hard wheat, in which the prize is a $2,500. Ramsey tractor engine, and we are going to compete for the valuable prizes for dry-farmed fruits, grasses and cereals. We are out for the silverware that the Canadians have been carrying home for three years past, and we plan to bring back as much as they have carried off, and then some more for interest and good advertising."

Martin S. Wesells, curator of the chamber, is to have charge of the decorative features of our exhibit, and also collect and prepare the grasses, cereals and fruit. We are to have the co-operation of the Inland Empire Association of Commercial Clubs, and there will be besides exhibits under the district classes a large number in the individual competitions, in fact, we are going to enter on everything grown in Washington, Oregon and Idaho, and we are going to have the prize winners, too.

"Our delegation and our exhibit is going on a special train. We have the assurance of a big delegation, too, and we have engaged Bob Hendricks' Bienville Hotel, which was the host of the National Apple Show last fall. Then, too, we will have 50 members of the Enakops Patrol, in uniform, and they will do some stunts that will make people sit up and take notice. Wm. S. McCrea, the imperial korean of this mysterious and mystic order, is in charge of this part of the arrangements, and he has applications from enough members to nearly fill the train already. Reservations are being made for a number of the leading dry-farmers of the Inland Empire, and, if the accommodations are insufficient with one train, we will run two.

"The Eastern Washington delegation will be a big one, dry farming holds the attention of thousands of successful farmers in that section. About 2,000,000 acres of our best dry-farmed lands are devoted to wheat, and we can grow wheat, too. Wait till they see it in Lethbridge! We also grow oats and barley, and we are going to have some of those Oregon potato growers with us, for Tillman Reuter, who has won the potato prizes in the past, is out for every one of those offered this year. And in alfalfa there is going to be something 'doing' too!"

"We had great enthusiasm in the plan to enter in every class open to us, and we will have the biggest and best exhibit ever sent out of the Inland Empire."
